REPORT OF THE
INSPECTORS OF PENITENTIARIES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 1915.

To the Honourable

CHARLES J. DOHERTY, K.C.,

Minister of Justice.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith reports and statistics in connection with the administration of the penitentiaries of Canada for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1915.

I regret that the inspectors are unable to make a joint report owing to the fact that Lieutenant-Colonel Hughes is absent in command of the 21st Battalion, now in Flanders. Since the outbreak of the war a number of penitentiary officials have enlisted for overseas military service, and two, namely Private Leonard Williams, guard of Saskatchewan penitentiary, and Captain J. L. Higginson, steward of Alberta penitentiary, have been killed in action.

POPULATION.

The average daily population during the year was 1,989, as compared with 1,946 during the previous year, and 1,359 ten years ago.

There were in custody at the close of the fiscal year, 2,064 convicts, of whom 31 are females. During the year, 495 were released on parole, 293 by expiry of sentence, and 6 by pardon. The number received during the year was 927.

Of the 2,064 convicts in custody at the end of the year, 329, or 16 per cent, had served one or more previous terms in Canadian penitentiaries. The comparatively small number of "repeaters" is a satisfactory indication that the method of treatment in our penitentiaries has the effect intended by the sentence.

INDUSTRIES.

The continued lack of suitable prison industries has prevented even better results, as it is essential that convicts should be trained in habits of industry if they are to succeed after release.

The farming industry is and has always constituted an important factor. Since the organization of Canadian penitentiaries, half a century ago, each institution has operated a farm for the employment of the inmates, in so far as has been practicable. In view of the class of inmates (who are restricted to those who have committed major crimes involving sentences from two years to life) it is obvious that there are a large number who cannot with safety be placed at work outside the walls. The farming season is limited by climatic conditions, and farming for these reasons is merely auxiliary to the regular prison industries. During the year under review the penitentiaries cultivated 1,500 acres of farm lands, on which 33,792 days of convict labour was employed. The aggregate value of farm products was $55,998, and the net profit $4,989. I would respectfully suggest that, hereafter, the selection of farm instructors be restricted to applicants who possess qualifying certificates from some recognized school or college of agriculture. With modern methods of agriculture, more satisfactory results could be obtained. It is gratifying to note that Provincial Governments and municipalities are following the example of our penitentiaries and are now establishing prison farms.

For many years the penitentiary officials have repeatedly called attention to the insufficiency of suitable prison labour, and have recommended that the State utilize the labour of its wards in supplying, so far as possible, its own requirements. The utilization of prison labour for State use has been the practice in England for many years, and since the outbreak of the present war it has been the most important factor in prison industry. The report of the Commissioners of Prisons for England and Wales for the year ended March 31, 1915, states that in 240 days of war the issue of war stores to other departments totalled 1,578,868 articles, being a daily average output of 6,578 articles. During that period the number of inmates employed on war stores averaged 5,166 daily. The cost of materials, tools, etc., was over one million dollars, and the value of prison labour nearly three-quarters of a million dollars.

Lest it should be urged that conditions as regards prison labour are different in England from those prevailing on this side of the Atlantic, it may be stated that the latest report of the Board of Prison Commissioners for the state of New York shows that the manufacturing industries of three state prisons, during the past year, turned out manufactured goods for state use to the value of $856,000, on which the value of prison labour was $133,000.

So far as Canadian penitentiaries are concerned, the lack of suitable prison industries has been and still is the greatest handicap to successful management.

THE OBJECT OF IMPRISONMENT.

Many of those interested in prison management have but a vague idea of the object for which prisons are maintained. In the administration of justice it is apparent that prisons are intended to be a continuation of the courts for the purpose of carrying out the sentences imposed for the protection of society and, incidentally, to afford facilities for the reclamation of the lawbreaker so that he may become a law-abiding citizen. If from any motive, whether selfish, mercenary, or from conscientious conviction, he become law-abiding, the object of imprisonment has been attained. During his incarceration the state provides the religious ordinances to which he would have access if he were free, but his moral or spiritual regeneration is a matter as to which neither the State nor its officials, as such, have any responsibility. A man's conscience, whether he be prisoner or free, cannot be controlled by the State. Some of our advisers insist that prison officials should assume responsibility for the creation and development of a conscience in every prisoner. They seem to think a prisoner's conscience is something tangible that can be gently massaged with special privileges and immunities, lubricated with tobacco juice and inflated with the gaseous advice and platitudes of officials who were not primarily selected on account of their qualifications as evangelists. A conscience thus developed will be of little service to the man after he has passed the gate of the prison and faced the stern realities of life. He will find that his employers do not furnish the materials to keep up the development. Men with artificially developed character are the material of which recidivists are made. Self-constituted reformers flippantly repeat the irrelevant and meaningless statement that "prisoners should be treated as men and not as beasts," and immediately insist that they be treated as children and not as men. Convicts in our penitentiaries are treated as men, but puerile and kindergarten methods are avoided as dangerous to society and a caricature of penal administration. Some of our critics have boldly asserted that our Canadian penitentiaries are "schools of crime." The assertion, whether made in ignorance or malice, is easily refuted by facts and figures that cannot be controverted. Penologists, whether such by experience or inspiration, will agree that recidivism is the best gauge of the criminality of any country. Of the 2,064 convicts in our custody on the first of April last, but 16 per cent were ever before in any Canadian penitentiary. "A school of crime" that produces 84 per cent of failures can hardly be designated a school. When we consider that the penitentiary population represents only those convicted of serious crimes, and that it represents not one but a group of penitentiaries, the results will compare favourably with those of any other country where similar conditions prevail.

At the recent meeting of the American Prison Association, the president in his opening address referred to the criminal statistics of one of the older states where the "moral suasion" methods, which we are urged to adopt in Canada, have been in practice for more than a decade and where the prison system is in the hands of able and conscientious officials. He stated that of those under sentence for crimes in that state, 57.6 per cent were "repeaters" with an average of more than seven convictions. If we adopt the suggested system, we will no doubt obtain like results.

The president of the association, who has been for many years in charge of penal and reformatory institutions, in referring to the "declaration" upon which the association was founded forty-five years ago states:—

"The declaration begins by stating that 'The supreme aim of prison discipline is the reformation of prisoners.' Note the conjunction of the words 'discipline' and 'reformation.' The word discipline is used, not in a punitive sense but in its broadest interpretation, and this means discipline of body, of mind, and of will. This discipline must be exercised in a way and under conditions that will induce reformation. Reformation means to make better. What does the prisoner need to make him better? Just what you and I need. To begin with, he needs the wholesome discipline of work, hard work, or at least the sort of work at which he can work hard every day. He needs fresh air, light, wholesome food. He needs the influence of example of men whose ideals are higher than his own. He needs to learn that the way of the transgressor is hard. He needs to learn the wisdom of self-control; to recognize that for the violation of law there is a certain undesirable consequence which we call penalty. Penalty is punishment, and because of this we cannot dissociate the idea of punishment from any institution or condition in which one remains or is made to conform against one's will. Therefore it is the will that must be reformed until it shall reach the point where one wills to do what is right. To this end all that I have mentioned as to the needs of the prisoner must be made to contribute. We need to emphasize this at a time when the public mind is being disturbed by political demagogues and amateur reformers, the one foisting upon the prisons inexperienced and untrained officials, the other impractical ideas."

Those who assume to solve the criminal problem by observing one angle only would obtain more accurate results if they were to study the other angles. Let them interview the thousands of innocent victims who are obliged to suffer the "hell of poverty" for life as a result of the fraudulent actions of men entrusted with their savings, invested in good faith in certain chartered banks and industries. Let them ask those sufferers whether in their opinion the "gentlemanly" convicts who are serving a few years for the offence are likely to become greater criminals if obliged to work at manual labour, or if they are likely to be degraded if required to comply with the sanitary regulation regarding hair cutting that is necessary in an institution of mixed population.

Let them visit the scores of families who have seen their homes, representing the toil of a lifetime, go up in smoke to gratify the whim of miscreants now serving a few years of incarceration for the offence. Let them ascertain whether, in the opinion of the homeless families, these convicts are likely to have their future redemption endangered if they be obliged to eat out of serving dishes such as their victims are obliged to use, and such as huntsmen, lumbermen, and pioneers use by preference.

Let them interview the fathers and the mothers whose little children have been outraged, diseased and dishonoured for life by animals in human form. Let them inquire whether in the opinion of the sufferers the authors of the outrages are likely to have their supersensitive feelings lacerated if they be obliged to walk to and from their work in compact military formation, by which alone they can be kept under proper control and surveillance by the limited number of officers in charge.

Having viewed the problem from the angle of the victims, let them view it from that of the judiciary. Let them inquire of the judges whether in imposing the sentence they meant what they said and intended that society should be protected by a term of hard labour that would teach the offenders that "the way of the transgressor is hard;" or whether it was intended that the terms of the sentence should be ignored and the offenders coddled, pampered, bribed with special privileges and immunities, entertained and amused, to meet the views of irresponsible enthusiasts.

The penological genius who can solve the problem from merely one given angle has the same contempt for Euclid that he has for elementary penological principles.

When a passenger steamer has been torpedoed by a submarine, public sympathy is centred on the victims, but a coterie of criminal pacifists in this country, if consistent, would have it directed to the physical comfort and the "mental and moral uplift" of the crew of the submarine.

To eliminate an evil it is necessary to eliminate the causes. The causes of criminality lie outside the prison. The prison merely deals with the results. The removal of the causes would seem to provide a sufficient outlet for the energies of those who desire to aid in the suppression of crime. For example, there has been during the past few years a rapidly increasing ratio of criminals who assert that the crimes were committed under the influence of the drug habit. At one of our institutions a very large proportion of those admitted are confessedly "dope victims." A dangerous characteristic of the habit is that the man appears to be unconscious of the crime, and during his sentence will persistently assert his absolute ignorance of the act and, therefore, his innocence. To convince a man that he is serving the just penalty of his act while he really believes himself innocent presents great difficulties. Attention is called to this cause of crime because it is only within recent years that it has assumed dangerous proportions in our prisons and among the classes of the community from which our prisons are recruited. Society will be greatly benefited by anything that can be done to remove the evil before it shall have become a national menace.

DUTY OF PRISON OFFICIALS.

It is the duty of prison officials to remember that clemency in criminal cases is vested in the Crown and that they have no right to vary, distort, or render farcical the sentence as imposed by the court at the behest of irresponsible and impractical theorists. In the performance of their duties, they should carefully guard against being influenced either by the naturally vindictive feelings of the suffering victims of crime, or by the wily whimperings of those who are enduring the penalty.

In an effort to change a lawbreaker into a self-respecting and law-abiding citizen, prison officials have three fundamental duties to perform:—

(1) To use every endeavour to convince the criminal that the law is not his enemy but his protector—that his imprisonment is but the natural result of his crime and that his position is due to his own voluntary act and not to any vindictive persecution by the law, as represented by the police, the judges, or the prison officials. There are always those too ignorant or too vicious to listen to reason, but a large proportion of the prison population is amenable to influence of this kind, if used in a kindly and tactful spirit. To convince him that all that is necessary to avoid unpleasant consequences is to avoid their cause, is more helpful in creating a spirit of manhood than maudlin expressions of sympathy and efforts to defeat the object of his sentence by bribing him to good behaviour with privileges and favours.

(2) It has been said that all men are largely creatures of habit. To correct wrong habits, and to create correct ones that are lacking, is an important duty of those in charge of criminals. Contempt for authority, parental or civil, has in most cases been followed by contempt for the rights of others generally, and the consequent crimes that result from such an attitude. To correct this, it is essential that the convict be taught rigid and just discipline—not as a punishment, but to habituate him to implicit and unhesitating obedience to legally constituted authority. The habit when acquired will afford safety to himself and others after his release and create a feeling of self-respect at the same time that it fosters a respect for law and order. A man with criminal instincts who is turned loose upon society before he has acquired habits of obedience to authority is as dangerous as a motor car without steering gear.

The enforcement of discipline is an essential in the foundation of character too frequently neglected by prison officials.

(3) The habit of industry is another essential. Like other habits it must be acquired, as it is not a natural habit with those convicts whose indolence and idleness have led to a criminal career. Hard work and plenty of it tends to keep the mind absorbed during working hours and also tends to sound and healthful sleep during the night. Both these results are beneficial to the man who is in trouble. Our officers do the best they can with the restricted labour available, but are obliged to utilize labour at stonebreaking and other industries that are neither desirable nor profitable. For the insufficiency of suitable and productive employment, the officers are in no way responsible.

6 GEORGE V, A. 1916

If the convict be released with the conviction that his imprisonment was the natural result of his own acts—with the habit of obedience to and respect for legally constituted authority firmly implanted and the habit of industry thoroughly acquired, he has a good chance of regaining his self-respect and his citizenship. He will be a man and not merely a spoiled and pampered child.

Respectfully submitted,

DOUGLAS STEWART,

Inspector.

APPENDIX A.—DOMINION PAROLE OFFICER'S REPORT.

To the Hon. CHARLES J. DOHERTY, K.C., D.C.L., LL.D., Minister of Justice,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you the annual report on the parole system for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1915.

Itinerary.—During the past fiscal year I have visited the seven penitentiaries and interviewed 1,481 prisoners. I have also visited twenty-two reformatories, jails, and institutions for the delinquent during the year; and from the parole office I have reported on 872 cases, locating friends and providing employment for the major portion of them; also reporting on the antecedents and criminal records of the prisoners applying for parole.

Statistics since the inception of the Act, sixteen years ago.—It is satisfactory to know that the parole system is working out so effectively in the reclamation and rehabilitation of many anti-social units who, by their criminal or delinquent act have separated themselves from the law-abiding, and that every restoration made is a citizen gained. The entire number released on parole since the inception of the Act sixteen years ago, according to the figures supplied by the chief commissioner of police, is 7,776. The total delinquency for the sixteen years is 489, or 6.3 per cent. A total of 6,412 men have completed their probation on parole and occupy positions in good citizenship to-day, and 875 prisoners are now reporting and have in prospect the completion of their probation on parole. The total delinquency for non-compliance with conditions of license is 265 or 3.4 per cent, and for subsequent conviction is 224 or 2.9 per cent, making a total delinquency of 6.3 per cent.

It is gratifying indeed to many who are interested in this movement and who have assisted in the placing of paroled prisoners or have given their supervision to those entrusted with a conditional liberty, that so many have demonstrated their ability to hold true to their integrity and honour.

United States Statistics.—During the year I have made a careful inquiry into the working of the parole system in the United States and in other countries and beg to submit statistics furnished from the results in the various states of the Union.

As far as I can ascertain the adoption of the parole system in the United States began in Massachusetts in the year 1884. Since then this system has been inaugurated in no less than thirty-four states of the Union. From all the statistics available, the total number of those released on parole is 38,593. The total number of delinquencies is 6,721 or 17.4, showing that about 83 per cent of all releases have made good.

It is also estimated that the parole system in the United States has saved the country more than ten million dollars, and by a conservative estimate the earnings of the prisoners while on parole amounted to over thirty million dollars. The parole system when once adopted has never been repealed in any country.

Supervision.—Several systems of parole supervision are in vogue. The usual practice in the United States has been to attach one or two parole officers to each penal institution. New York has supplemented this by placing the men on parole with the prison aid associations, a voluntary organization. France has a similar method of turning men over to guardian institutions which receive ten cents a day for each case conditionally released for the time of their probation, unless that allowance would exceed one hundred francs. In the year of 1912 the state of Minnesota adopted the voluntary co-operation system. About two hundred responsible citizens were selected to act as advisors or first friend to men on parole; so far as possible a man of the same religion and nationality was assigned to each prisoner, and the plan has met with some success. Many of the states require a first friend for each paroled prisoner, but this system has demonstrated a hardship where prisoners had no friends and were unable to find one. The state of Pennsylvania in 1913 specified that in such cases the board should provide a first friend for like cases, and the state of Michigan in the same year passed an amendment that any sheriff, deputy sheriff, chief of police or truant officer shall upon the request of the parole board act as first friend and advisor for prisoners released on parole. In Idaho sheriffs act as parole officers for prisoners released from their respective counties.

The Canadian system is under good organization in the oversight of the paroled prisoners as they are responsible to report to the chiefs of police or sheriffs of the communities wherein located and in many cases the parole officer arranges a first friend and employment for those released on parole, whose cases require special consideration.

Statistics of the Fiscal Year.—The tabulated statements from all the penitentiaries, reformatories, prisons, and jails of the Dominion are as follows:—

Paroles granted—

Kingston.. . . .	136
St. Vincent de Paul.. . . .	89
Dorchester.. . . .	67
Man'toba.. . . .	36
Saskatchewan.. . . .	24
Alberta.. . . .	68
British Columbia.. . . .	75
Penitentiaries, total.. . . .	495
Prisons, jails and reformatories.. . . .	702
Grand total.. . . .	1,197

There is a divergency of ten in the total number released on parole from the penitentiaries as compared with the figures issued from the Chief Commissioner of Police office. This is accounted for in the fact that some paroles were issued where the men refused to accept. Also in a few cases paroles were issued on condition that the prisoner left the country and were counted as deportations, having complied with these conditions.

The total number of delinquencies for the past fiscal year is 77 or 6.4 per cent.

Review Criminalistics Historical.—One cannot review the history of prisons and the treatment of criminals without admitting that there has been a vast improvement in the care of the criminally delinquent, especially during the last decade or the past fifty years.

As one reads the history of prisons and prisoners in Greece, Rome, Australia, France and England, it would seem as if these institutions were the expressions, some two centuries ago, of the most barbarous instincts humanity could produce by a half civilized people. The story of the marortine of Rome, the spielberg in Australia, the plombs in Venice, the bastille of Paris, the tower of London, the mines of Siberia, and the dark, dank dungeons of the inquisitions, are all the story of cruelty, pain, and barbarism. There could have been, with all appropriateness, written over the doorways of these historic prisons the inscription which Dante put over the lower region doorway: "All hope abandon ye who enter here." Only one idea seemed to have dominated those who controlled the delinquents in these prisons, viz., to make the lot of those who chanced to be so unfortunate as to find themselves in durance vile, as miserable and wretched as it was possible for the age of cruelty to accomplish in the lives of erring mortals. The whole penological and criminological idea in those days was to emphasize the heinousness of crime by a studied torture of the criminal.

Gradually it has dawned upon the consciousness of those in authority that the prisoner is something more than a mere criminal, that he is a human being and subject in one way or another to influences which work out for the reformation of a fallen humanity. The whole system of our prisons, especially in the last decade or two, has changed in the treatment of prisoners, and there is still room for advance and development. During late years splendid work is being undertaken in the correction of vicious habits and the teaching of useful trades so that men are better qualified to earn an honest living than when they were first brought in contact with our institutions.

Plato, in his "Ideal Republic," mentioned, among many trite sayings, that "The best thing for the state to do is to reform its criminals," but the world was too cruel for centuries after Plato to pay much attention to his doctrine and, strange as it may seem, the idea of true prison reform had to wait until the eighteenth century before the authorities really considered the prison question to be of any merit. Prison reformers of to-day and those interested in criminological questions will ever feel under lasting obligations to Clement XI for establishing his juvenile prison of St. Michael's for boys and young men; and our penological students, as well as the famous Howard of England, read and ponder over the inscription on the doorway of this old prison, "It is of little use to restrain criminals by punishment unless you reform them by education." It was in this same century that Count Villain VIII in his convict prison in Ghent worked out many prison reforms and every civilized nation is slowly and ploddingly working out his advance movements in our modern penology. To him must be given the credit of laying down some concrete principles, namely: "Reformation is a primary end to be kept in view." "Hope is a great regenerative force," "Industry is a vital force for the regeneration of the criminals," "Abbreviation of sentence and participation in earnings is an incentive to diligence and obedience," "The new birth to respect law," and "The qualifying of the prisoner for honest support after liberation." While some two hundred years have elapsed since these fundamental principles of the Ghent institution were enunciated, yet to-day they are being worked out gradually on the same lines and ideals, bearing effective and tangible results. There is but little new thought or action in modern penological science after all, for when one looks back on the history of the prisons of the ancient world we readily find: on one side a record of cruelty which may originate with the old Hindoo idea that "Punishment is the inspiration of terror, as it terrifies the guilty," and on the other side, the labour and inspiration of Clement and Count Villain, Elizabeth Fry, John Howard and the host of prison reformers of our day who are trying to do effective work in the reconstruction of prisoners' lives. Our christian civilization moves on apace and, if there is anything that is true in the heart of it, if there is hope of moral regeneration, why not make it a practical working principle to help the world solve one of the most darksome problems presented by criminalistics to the human race?

Whatever tends to lessen crime is beneficial to the entire community. Hence the state under whose authority its good citizens live and have a right to look to for protection, may well devote some time and thinking, and some money if necessary, to the prevention of crime as well as to the punishment of criminals. I have no sympathy with the morbid sentimentality of many who magnify the criminal into a national hero, and send him romping over the fields to chase butterflies, or those who would convert our penitentiaries into summer resorts and provide entertainments of a frivolous nature to interest delinquent and criminal men, nor do I believe that the fatted calf should be killed for the prodigal (who we are told wasted his substance in riotous living) at the expense of the son who remained at home to look after his father's best interests; but, while our country provides just and equitable laws for the protection of the law-abiding, should we not expect that the delinquent and erring classes who have stepped over the bounds that divide the legal from the illegal, should receive a treatment which would produce the very best results in the after-life of the prisoner?

The parole system is not founded on sentiment but on safety, and is an aid or factor in producing moral health in the life of the delinquent and criminal classes of the Dominion and the results demonstrate that thus far only a little over six per cent of the entire number released on their honour have been returned to prison, and not over three per cent of the entire number have committed crime and been returned on subsequent convictions after their release.

I am satisfied that, as a rule, the worst and most dangerous criminals are not found among the life prisoners. Take for instance the professional burglar (we have a number of them to-day in our institutions). He is generally turned out of prison with no other motive than to commit other burglaries. He enters your home and your life is nothing nor that of your wife or children, if it stands in the way of his apprehension for crime or his escape from the authorities. He is sent to the prisons, choosing a life sentence on the installment plan, and is given a chance to rob and plunder at his option every few years. I would not compare him to the unfortunate man who, through passion or under the influence of drink, has stricken down his fellow man and has subsequently spent long years of remorse and penitence over his rash and, generally, unpremeditated act. There are life men in our penitentiaries who could be safely trusted after they had spent ten or fifteen years in prison, for having learned the lesson, they have a horror of crime instilled into them, as much so as the very best people in any community.

True prison and criminological questions involve propositions in the political, social and mental sciences, and these propositions are found in all prison problems. When these solutions have been solved and a general basis of operation reached, the matter of the administration of prisons, and those who are restrained in them, will have better thought concerning the reformation of prisoners, their punishments, discipline, profit, loss or labour. Leading penologists now admit the scientific basis of operation from the objective and subjective principles. From these motive forces the following outline is given:—

1. Objective.

- (1) Value of object, extent of danger or injury.
- (2) Remoteness or proximity of danger.
- (3) Specific relation of object to victim.
- (4) Numbers.
- (5) Openness or secrecy.
- (6) Special contrivances.
- (7) Atrocity, cruelty, helplessness of victim.

2. Subjective.

- (1) Motive (gain, malice, fear, distress, altruistic motive).
- (2) Abnormal state of mind.
- (3) Vagueness of intensity of purpose.
- (4) Temptation or provocation.
- (5) Repentance and reparation.
- (6) Habit.
- (7) Profession.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

1. Political offences.
2. Statute violations.
3. Administrative crimes.
4. Police offences.
5. Crimes against morality.
6. Common or ordinary crimes.

But prison reform to be effective must start back further than the prisons. It must educate the law makers. It must awaken the judiciary of our Dominion, who are responsible for the great divergency of sentence, especially found in the various penitentiaries. It must wipe out the pernicious fee systems in the operation of the law which gives a constable so many dollars for arresting a fellow citizen and the magistrate or justice of the peace so many dollars for convicting him; for are not many of our police courts supported principally by fines imposed on those who, generally, are unable to pay them and when they are paid by the unfortunate law breaker it is taken from the money which should go to feed and clothe the wife and children who have the unfortunate lot to be related to the drunkard or petty thief? There is altogether too much traffic in fallen humanity, and I really believe the fee and fine system to be a blot on our civilization and but little deterrent to crime. The day cannot be far distant when every official having to do with the administration of justice will be placed on a salary basis and their financial rewards for the protection of the rights of the innocent will be as great as the rewards for convicting the guilty. When this is accomplished the spectacle of constables and other officials of the law engaged in their work like pawnbrokers or peanut vendors in a scramble for business which involves the sacred rights and liberties of their fellow-men, will be a thing of the past. It is time our judges were awakened to a more intelligent discrimination between the first offender of a petty crime who may be reformed and the professional criminal who seldom makes a turn in life. The probability of reform rather than the nature of the offence, should govern the sentence. A balky vicious, kicking horse may reform, but we know he seldom does. A midnight house-burglar or safe-blower may reform after the second or third term of imprisonment, but he seldom does except in the theories of optimistic philanthropists. A life sentence is the only intelligent treatment for this class of offenders, while a first offender, who might profit and reform better on the probation system than with any term of imprisonment, is given as long and sometimes a longer sentence.

All great reform movements are both evolutionary and revolutionary. As theories they revolve, as facts they revolutionize. Prison reform was at first a theory, now it is a fact. Theory has only been realized in so far that it enables truth to grow out of experiment, and revolution is the outcome of truth. There are many fads proposed and advocated in connection with prison reform and much that seems reasonable in theory when tried out does not prove helpful in efforts to rehabilitate the criminal. It is a good thing to make slow and sure progress in connection with these questions and the treatment of delinquents.

In spite of all reform efforts and movements for the reconstruction and uplift of our criminal-classes, they still continue to increase. Are not these conditions somewhat due to the fact that nearly all efforts are made to punish the criminals and so little is being done to prevent the boy or girl from becoming a criminal?

While it is impossible for the government to imprison men to reform them yet we must admit that the great purpose of imprisonment is reformation and restoration to society. Prison reform leads the public to study the cause as well as the remedy for every moral disease in the community and it is freely admitted that drunkenness is one of the most prolific causes of crime in the Dominion. The public should then be educated to understand the evil of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, and their responsibility for its existence. It exists in Canada simply because society tolerates it. It is an acknowledged industry of crime and a producer of sorrow in human lives. The saloon with its nature and work, in its blossoms and fruit, is so thoroughly bad that the wonder is how it can exist and thrive in any intelligent community; more wonderful, how it can be sustained by any professedly christian people. The odious character and guiltiness of the liquor business appears in its effects which are too numerous to count, too widespread to survey, too appalling to describe. Any attempt at enumeration or description must be feeble on my part in comparison with the magnitude and volume of crime in the Dominion for which it is responsible; and yet a government of the people and for the people, puts the stamp of legality upon a traffic so evidently contrary to all that is beneficial to the highest interests of society and the general welfare of our country. Prison reform will never realize the goal of its ideals until public sentiment has been educated to see and to feel the injurious character of this great hot-bed crime producer in the Dominion. We hear of one or two provinces in the west which are undertaking to deal with the drink problem in the only practical way (its extermination) in advanced legislation on this vital matter. More power behind the movement.

Discharged and Paroled Prisoners.—The problem of the discharged or paroled prisoner is still one of complex character. He is a man of such uncertain status, both in his relationship to the state and his relationship to society at large, that we often find it difficult to place him in a helpful environment, or really know what is best to do with him.

It is not even certain that he is a criminal. There never has as yet been given to the world a satisfactory definition of the word "crime" or "criminal" upon which penologists and criminologists the world over could agree. The word "criminal" is held in some countries to mean a man who has been convicted of a criminal offence and in other countries it is only used in connection with those who have chosen deliberately to follow crime as a profession.

The first offender has no criminal associations except such as he may make in prison, while the old crook knows nobody else but the criminals and the police. The discharged prisoner who has been committed for his first offence, who has come from a good position and held a good status in society has generally a new group of acquaintances and friends to make, while the old crook who has served four or five sentences, has, on the contrary, a large circle of the criminal class to shake before he can have the possibility of a chance to reconstruct his life. The former has perhaps a profession or a trade to help him make good if he can only once get a foothold in society again. The latter has never, or seldom, earned an honest living outside of a prison, and as long as he has lived he has never planned to live by honest toil. The former comes out of prison crushed and humiliated by his trouble, ashamed to meet his old associates and desirous of concealing his shame, feeling that every one is pointing the finger of scorn at him which makes him almost hopeless about his future. The latter has been hardened by the successive terms of imprisonment and considers the finger of scorn a mere figure of speech. He is so imbued with his own ideas of right and wrong that he is rather proud of his prison life than otherwise. Having never earned his living or tasted of the sweets of labour he has an idea that the world owes it to him in some way or other, and that he ought to be paid on a salary basis from one thousand upwards for not picking pockets or be retired on a pension for ceasing to burglarize. He regards himself as somewhat of a figure and sometimes a hero, and his first idea after his discharge from prison, if he wishes to reform, is to write some article for the yellow press who would rather publish a slanderous and libellous statement against prison administration than the truth anytime, or lecture on prison reform and hold himself up as a terrible example to the "movies" who reflect his prison garb on the canvas as a wonderful "reformed crook." The former is a difficult case to deal with because of his supersensitiveness, and the latter is also difficult because he has been hardened beyond all sensitiveness, and the softening touch that might save him must often necessarily be dealt with a set fist before he can be brought to realize that the hand of a new life is upon him or that the rewards of a new life are within his reach. The discharged or paroled old crook who tries to reform is at once placed in a pathetic attitude toward society. Never having much to do with the ordinary forces of organized life in their ideals of respectability and moral principles he finds things far beyond his comprehension. With the reformed old criminal there is also a terrible restlessness of life. It comes from the reaction of a long course of confinement in prisons, and he generally feels that another place is better for him than where he now is, and he has an entire inability to realize that wherever he goes he cannot get away from the self, from his own self that has thrown him oft in prison and made his life so conspicuously a failure. It is also a problem to deal with the first offender who has been found out, humiliated and has endured his imprisonment with bitterness and shame, and who is released and feels himself an outcast tenfold more than he really is; as well as the recidivist criminal to whose mind the heroism of the life has heretofore consisted in criminal exploits and who, though professing reform, still speaks of his long imprisonments with a sort of a foolish pride as entitling to some distinction and whose experience has taught him to regard labour rather as a loathing thing, having never tasted of the blessings which accrue from a life of honest toil. Many are the complex cases to deal with and the only safe way is through personal study of each individual case from an application of methods adapted to reach individual cases.

Respectfully submitted,

W. P. ARCHIBALD,

Dominion Parole Officer.

KINGSTON, ONT., April 1, 1915.

Inspectors of Penitentiaries,

From the foregoing it will be seen that there has been a total increase in the population of 48, as compared with the previous year, made up of 33 males and 15 females. The unusual increase in the female population is due to the removal of the inmates of the female ward at the Alberta penitentiary to this institution and the fact that all the women throughout the Dominion, with the exception of those from the provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, who are sentenced to penitentiary terms are now sent here.

It is a matter for congratulation that in view of the general depression that has set in the increase in the male population was not greater.

The fact that with an average population of 530 there were but three deaths speaks well for the health of the inmates and the sanitary conditions of the institution.

We had one, so far as the penitentiary was concerned, successful escape, resulting, I regret to say, in such injury to two of the officers as to incapacitate them for further duty. The prisoner was subsequently recaptured and tried for his offence.

During the year the building operations were mainly centered in the extension of the boundary wall a considerable portion of which was completed and I hope to see it finished this season. The progress made and the nature of the work reflect credit on the officers and men engaged.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

This wall is part of a plan for providing better accommodation for the engineers' plant whereby conditions in that department will be greatly improved. The present location of the boilers, particularly, is inconvenient, difficult to properly supervise and generally undesirable. Better and more convenient facilities for storing coal, and enlargement of the yard will be other desirable results of the change.

I am of opinion that the reconstruction of the north wing should be commenced as soon as possible. The demolition of the present interior to make room for the cells would give employment to a considerable number of men during the winter months and I think most of the reconstruction might be carried on by the mason gang at the season of the year when it is too cold for outside work.

At present the cell blocks are full and we are compelled to assign sleeping quarters to some of the regular prison population in the prison of isolation. This is inconvenient and undesirable for many reasons. It is only a matter of time until the extra accommodation will be absolutely necessary and in the meantime it would be a great convenience to have other cells to which to transfer men when it might be necessary to do so for any reason.

Your suggestion that the building contain three instead of four tiers of cells, as the other wings have, and over them library and school room be provided is, I think, an excellent one and should receive serious consideration when the final plans are under discussion.

Many of the farm buildings and walls are very much in need of pointing and other repairs and much of the fencing is in anything but a satisfactory condition. This very necessary work will be gone on with as opportunity offers.

During the summer the barriers of the outer windows of the cell blocks were given a coat of white paint and other minor repairs made that tend to give the place a brighter and better kept appearance.

On the whole the farm has had a successful season. The crop of grain was hardly up to the average; the root crop, however, was good and with the exception of potatoes, we have enough vegetables to supply all our wants. The piggery continues to give good returns. We will not only have all the pork we need for our own consumption but in addition will have a considerable quantity for sale.

The question of providing other and more desirable employment for the large number of men we are from necessity compelled to keep breaking stone has been so thoroughly discussed and it is so generally admitted that something should be done that it would be superfluous to say anything further at this time more than to reiterate that the sooner some solution can be found the better it will be for the men both while confined here and on their liberation and for the discipline of the institution.

The tinware in which the men's food was formerly served was replaced some months ago by white enamel ware, perhaps the best indication that the men appreciate the change is evidenced by the fact of the care they take of the dishes. They certainly have a more cleanly and appetizing appearance.

I am pleased to report that on the whole the conduct of the men has been good and the discipline maintained.

In conclusion I desire to express to you my appreciation of and sincere thanks for the valuable advice and courteous treatment extended to me by yourselves and to the staff my appreciation of their hearty co-operation and loyal support since taking charge on August 1 last.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ROBT. R. CREIGHTON,

Warden.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my fourth annual report together with crime statistics and other reports in connection with this penitentiary for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1915.

The conduct of the convicts has been very good and no serious breach of discipline has occurred. One convict escaped from a barn where he was working and situated at about a mile from the prison and near the quarry, but was recaptured about two hours later in the bush near Terrebonne.

I am sorry to say that we have had a certain number of cases of typhoid fever, which was caused, I believe, by the water which we are supplied from the Rivière des Prairies. In September last, I informed the department that the Rivière des Prairies water was contaminated by all the sewerages of the north part of Montreal and Ahuntsic which drain into the said Rivière des Prairies a few miles above St. Vincent de Paul, and I suggested that an artesian well be drilled inside the walls of this penitentiary, so as to have potable water for the use of this institution. The well has been granted by the department and drilled with a certain amount of success, and will furnish the institution with about 30,000 gallons per day. This is quite sufficient to supply the prison for drinking purposes and kitchen use.

Concrete Culvert.—During the summer of 1913 a concrete culvert has been made and during this year about 4,000 loads of refuse stones and earth were carried in the creek around the culvert so to extend the embankment.

New Catholic Chapel.—As soon as the spring weather allowed, work was started on the foundation of the new Catholic chapel between the south and east wings. The foundations were put in for a building of 160 feet long by 46 feet in width, and the wall were carried up seven feet above grade by the time the cold weather set in, and prevented further operations. The walls were then covered and made safe for the winter.

Temporary Catholic Chapel.—I might mention in this instance the removing of a portion of wall separating the room once used for temporary cells during the rebuilding of the north wing, from the dome (so called) which was formerly used for shaving and cutting the hair of the outside gangs. This gave us 25 feet more length for the chapel, or a total exclusive of the altar, of about eighty feet, thus allowing ample space for all requirements.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

Boundary Wall.—The work of extending the boundary wall a distance of 64 feet beyond the old site, so as to inclose the front of the prison was started on the north-west corner, and carried to a point within 40 feet of the main entrance, a total distance of about 400 feet, the space between the wall and the building being closed with a substantial barricade of wood. In addition there has been quite a few alterations made that tend greatly to the safety of the prison and the convenience of the officers.

Farm Drain.—The stone drain which was commenced last year, has been continued and 725 feet has been made. It has been covered and levelled with 1,500 loads of refuse stones and earth. This drain connects with the creek on the penitentiary reserve.

New Hospital.—Plumbing, steamfitting, new locking system and a complete heater system has been installed, also a new range for the kitchen. We took possession of same the 12th November last.

General Repairs.—The room formerly used as a kitchen in the early days, was divided longitudinally by the erection of a brick wall through the centre, and one of those spaces subdivided into four smaller rooms, to be used for the following, viz.: reception room for newcomers, where they will be stripped and searched, bathroom and convicts' clothing for dressing the men in place of having to send them across the yard to the change-room for that purpose, room to keep the clothing of short term prisoners, and court room where the men will be tried for any offence against discipline. All the radiators in the south, east and west wings were taken away and replaced by steam coils and has in every respect proved to be much more economical in the consumption of coal and at the same time given a greater percentage of heat in the wings.

Keeper's Hall.—The old keeper's hall has been enlarged by taking out the bottom portion of the wall separating it from the corridor leading to the old kitchen and the removal of a couple of partition walls. The space thus gained and the old hall, have been floored over with reinforced concrete, and is a much-needed addition to our comfort. When the ceiling and wall are put in shape we will have a keeper's hall to be proud of at any rate, and one we will not feel ashamed to have visitors look at.

New Proposed Kitchen.—Our kitchen is now our sore spot, and it is the intention to commence the erection of a building to contain the kitchen and bakery on the ground floor, the school and library in the second story. The site is between the south and west wings, and it is expected to have the kitchen portion ready for the steward this fall, if nothing to prevent intervenes. This will be probably the greatest improvement that has been made at this prison since improvements were first thought of, for if we need anything badly we need a kitchen worse.

In conclusion, I desire to express my sincere thanks to yourselves for the uniform courtesy and assistance which you have so freely extended to me in the administration of the affairs of this institution, and also thanks to the general staff for the respect and devotedness which they all have accorded me in the discharge of my duties.

Respectfully submitted,

G. S. MALEPART,

Warden.

DORCHESTER.

April 29, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report, together with crime statistics and detailed reports from the various departments of the Dorchester penitentiary, for the year ending March 31, 1915.

Work on the sewage tanks and filter beds began early in July and continued until finished, and are at present giving entire satisfaction.

The sewage tank for the Government tenements was also finished, and the laying of the pipe line, with the necessary connections is in progress and will be completed during the coming summer.

Farming operations were carried on energetically and with very satisfactory results.

The discipline has been good and the officers faithful in the discharge of their duties. In conclusion I desire to express my sincere thanks to yourselves for the courtesy and assistance extended me, also my thanks to the staff generally for the respect and devotedness accorded me in the discharge of my duties.

Respectfully submitted,

A. B. PIPES,
Warden.

MANITOBA.

STONY MOUNTAIN, March 31, 1915.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of the Manitoba penitentiary for the fiscal year just ended, together with the crime statistics and other reports in connection with the institution.

The movement of convicts for the year has been as follows:—

Remaining at midnight, March 31, 1914.. . . .	172
Received since:—
From common jails.. . . .	86
Recaptured (escape from Selkirk)..	1

" escape from Selkirk.. . . .	1
" death.. . . .	2
		92
Remaining at midnight, March 31, 1915 (including one at Selkirk)..		167

The daily average during the year was 162.

I regret to say that a serious accident occurred last May, in which two convicts lost their lives, full reports of which were forwarded to you at the time.

Our teams have been busy during the past fall and winter, on the Winnipeg road, over two and one-half miles being completed this season, which leaves about four miles yet to do to connect with the Oak Point road.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

Our boundary wall is now completed, with the exception of the Main Gate House. However, we expect to get the iron barriers on shortly and can then remove the temporary stockade.

The prison has been completely wired, as has also the warden's and deputy warden's houses.

Considerable stone is now ready for the new east wing.

The hill on the northeast end of the reserve has been completed to the satisfaction of the municipal council.

Owing to the dry season last year, the farm returns were very poor. It is the intention to increase the farm acreage by the breaking of considerable new land.

The well in the prison basement has been deepened and a new well drilled in the prison yard, which should ensure a sufficient supply of water for all the requirements of the prison.

The present hospital building roof requires to be re-shingled and the heating plant therein should also be thoroughly overhauled during the coming summer.

In closing, I am pleased to be able to state that the discipline in the institution has been good and I thank the officers for their loyal support in this connection, and also for their careful attention in the performance of the various duties assigned them.

I also take this occasion of extending my grateful thanks to you and to the department for the numerous courtesies received during the year just closed.

Respectfully submitted,

W. R. GRAHAME,

Deputy Warden in Charge.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., May 1, 1915.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my report for the year ended March 31, 1915, together with the usual financial and statistical statements.

I have, for the first time, the pleasure of reporting a substantial decrease in prison population, the number in confinement at the close of the year being 349, whereas we had 376 when the year opened.

Two prisoners died during the year, both from heart disease. One was in very poor health when admitted, and was speedily placed in hospital; the other collapsed when returning from work. As he had not complained of illness the coroner directed a post mortem examination to establish the cause of death.

There were no escapes or attempts to escape during the year.

The condition of the prison as to discipline has been fairly satisfactory. The number of convicts punished was 20.5 per cent of the total number in confinement during the year.

Five acres have been added to our farm area during the year, a piece of fairly good land on the outskirts of the reserve having been cleared, drained and fenced, ready for cultivation during the coming summer.

The non-receipt of parts of the locking machinery, ordered some time ago, will delay the completion of the new cell wing; but we hope to be able to move into it, within a few weeks, the convicts now in the temporary cell block.

6 GEORGE V, A. 1916

Good progress has been made on the construction of the concrete sewer along the course of the "Glen" stream. This work has given constant employment to a large number of the short term men who are allowed to work outside the walled prison yard, and consequently the work of improving the appearance of the approach to the prison building has not made much progress, since my last report.

The officers have, as a rule, been faithful and diligent in the discharge of their duties, and the work of the prison has been carried on with the minimum of friction during the year.

The Salvation Army band of Vancouver kindly gave an open-air concert during the year, which the inmates enjoyed very much. The behaviour of the prisoners on the occasion was admirable, and I have reason to believe that the moral effect was good.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN C. BROWN,

Warden.

ALBERTA.

EDMONTON, ALTA., April 1, 1915.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit the annual report of this penitentiary for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1915, together with reports from the various departments, including the chaplains, school instructor, farm instructor, surgeon and the crime statistics.

From the crime statistics will be seen that the convict population decreased by twenty-eight during the year. The convicts were all employed advantageously during the year, and for the most part in the open air.

Very good progress was made in the construction of new buildings. The new east wing has been completed and the convicts are all now housed therein. The interior of the old temporary cell block has been removed and is being reconstructed, the downstairs of which will be used for the laundry, change room and baths. The upstairs will be used for the tailor and shoe shops.

The new workshops, the foundations of which had been put in the previous year, are almost completed and, when finished, the carpenter shop, machine shop, blacksmith shop, tinsmiths and painters will be housed therein and the small temporary buildings in which these departments were operating will be taken down and the yard leveled up for the parade ground.

The new chapel over the central hall has been plastered and a cement floor laid and it is now ready for the furnishings. The central hall has all been plastered, the galleries are being built and we are now about ready to lay the flooring therein. The kitchen has been removed from the old temporary cell block to the basement underneath the central hall and is very comfortably situated.

The yard, or enclosures surrounding the buildings has been very materially enlarged which necessitated the building of some 1,500 feet of new fence, and a new watch tower for the front entrance gate. Fifteen hundred feet of new 20 pound steel rails were laid from the yard to the mine. Fly screens were put on the hospital windows and many other improvements of a like nature were made.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

I regret very much to have to report two deaths during the year, and two accidents of a minor nature. There were two escapes during the year, both being recaptured within a very short distance of the prison. There were four other attempts at escape, three of which consisted of sawing the bars of their cells or digging holes in the cell walls; and one attempt to scale the fence.

No insanity developed during the year. There was one case of a convict malingering insanity in which he failed. I very much regret to report one attempted suicide. A convict jumped from the third landing in the main building but lit on his feet on the concrete pavement below. His feet are permanently injured. He is a life convict. There were fifteen convicts deported as well as sixty-eight paroles issued from here during the year.

The new intramural telephone system which will connect all departments of the prison is now about completed and is a great improvement to the prison.

There being no stable or garage at the Warden's residence, a new garage was built during the year which greatly adds to the appearance of the property.

The products of the farm, considering the small area under cultivation, were satisfactory in view of the very wet season, which drowned out and ruined about two acres of potato crop. We had also one or two very heavy hail storms which did considerable damage to the vegetables. Two thousand feet of drain have been put in which will drain the low places injured by the heavy fall of rain last season. The concrete tile used in this drain were made in the institution.

About fifteen acres of additional ground was broken during the year and will be cropped during the coming season. An additional team has been bought and it is my intention to commence at an early date breaking all the land on the reserve north of the Canadian Northern Railway tracks. When this is completed it will add fifty or sixty acres to our crop area.

As set forth in the Surgeon's report, the general health of the convicts during the year has been good. The offences and violations of the prison regulations, as usual, are confined for the most part to about twenty-five or thirty per cent of the population.

It is with deep regret that I refer to the death of Guard Dove who died from the effects of a heavy cold which turned into pulmonary tuberculosis. Guard Dove was a splendid disciplinary officer and was held in the highest esteem by the whole staff.

The discipline of the officers, generally speaking, has been exemplary. There were a number of changes made in the official staff during the year. In conclusion I beg to express my deepest gratitude to the inspectors for the many courtesies and kind assistance to me during the year.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

J. C. PONSFORD,

Warden.

SASKATCHEWAN.

PRINCE ALBERT, March 31, 1915.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit the annual report together with crime statistics and other reports in connection with this penitentiary, for the year ending March 31, 1915:—

	<hr/>	51
Remaining in custody March 31, 1915.. . . .		<hr/> 132

This includes two convicts in the Provincial hospital for the insane.

Our population is increasing. On March 31st, 1914, we had an increase of thirteen men over the previous year, and this year, we show an increase of twenty-four, over 1914.

During the past year we completed the extension to the present cell wing, and now have sixty-four new cells ready to use. We did not build any cells on the third landing as I think we have enough cell room, until our permanent cell block is completed.

Some 750 piles were driven during last summer, and cement foundations were put in for the new cell wing.

We built a new stable during the year, 100 feet by 38 feet, which will hold 33 horses, with a loft in which we can store away some fifty tons of hay.

On the farm, we built some two and a half miles of wire fence and expect to finish the fence around the reserve this summer.

We also built a new root cellar, 60 feet by 30 feet, by 12 feet high.

We had 227 acres under crop last summer, and have about 90 acres of new land broken. This will give 317 acres to put in crop this spring.

During the winter we hauled enough sand and gravel from our pits across the river, for all building purposes during the coming summer, and we also cut and hauled some three thousand fence posts from our bush reserve, eight miles up the river.

We stopped making brick in the month of August, as our brick making instructor was one of the officers who enlisted for active service from this penitentiary. We turned out some 400,000 bricks of good quality. We sawed up enough wood, which was cut on the farm, during the winter, to run our brick yard this summer.

One convict escaped during the year, but I captured him the next day, after covering some two hundred miles in my motor car.

I wish to thank the officers for the support they have given me; they have diligently and faithfully performed the duties assigned them.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. MACLEOD,

Warden.

APPENDIX C.—SURGEONS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

SIR,—In accordance with the law in connection with the administration of the Dominion penitentiaries, I beg to submit my annual report of the medical department of the Kingston penitentiary for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The sanitary condition of the prison has been up to the usual standard of efficiency, and there was no disease due to unsanitary surroundings. Special pains are exercised to have all measures carried out in this regard, more being accomplished by absolute cleanliness than by other measures. There can be no denial of the fact that cleanliness prevails everywhere, but when and where it is necessary, disinfectant fluid is utilized as a supplement to the work daily carried on in this particular branch. Every effort has been employed for the carrying out of these important measures. There has been no complaint on these matters, which is the best evidence of efficiency.

The dormitories, workshops, and all other departments have been well ventilated and heated, and absolute comfort so far as it is possible to maintain it, generally prevails.

The water used for drinking purposes was examined several times by me during the year, and pronounced good potable water. In no instance was there any evidence of any organic matter present which would be likely to contaminate it. The result of my examination was supported and confirmed by an analysis made of the water by the provincial laboratory.

The food in the general prison has been up to the usual standard as to quality; it is certainly abundantly supplied, cooked with every care, and served in agate vessels which are kept clean and sanitary, and which from their bright appearance, one might say, whet the appetite for the food they contain. The food problem is a large one, as indeed it is in all institutions, but the institution to which this report refers, appears to have mastered this important branch of prison management to the satisfaction of all.

At the close of the year there were 559 prisoners in the penitentiary. There was the usual amount of sickness amongst them during the year, but I am glad to be able to say, that there were no infectious diseases. There were only three deaths during the twelve months including the fiscal year, and these were due to absolutely incurable diseases from which the prisoners had suffered for many months; two had a stroke of paralysis, the third suffered from Bright's disease of the kidneys and valvular disease of the heart. There was only one accident during the year. A prisoner broke his arm by falling, but he is now as well as ever, and is most grateful for the attention given him in the hospital. Several minor operations were performed on prisoners. There has been no genuine case of tuberculosis of the lungs to record; indeed I must say that we have been most fortunate in that regard. As usual, however, a few suffered from enlarged glands of the neck, which might be classed under the category of glandular tuberculosis. This did not prevent them from attending to their daily work whilst receiving appropriate dispensary treatment.

The sewage works have been operated with much care, and are kept clean and sanitary. The sewage disposal plant appears to perform the work expected of it.

There were 137 cases of officers on the sick list during the year, all of whom required constant care and attention till well and able to resume duty. One officer had a serious operation performed on him, and he is now as well as ever. Many of the officers suffered from serious illness, and were prevented from returning to duty for long periods, during which time they were constantly under my attention, till they were restored to their former health and able to return to duty.

In connection with the hospital management, I may say that the number of dispensary patients for whom I prescribed and gave advice, and who were attended to by the hospital overseers, was 2,768; the number of patients treated in the hospital was 379; the number of days in the hospital was 1,568; prescriptions prepared by hospital overseers were 580 for officers; 467 for insane patients; 193 for inmates of prison of isolation; 314 for female prisoners, and 2,768 for dispensary purposes on standard prescriptions of the surgeon. Besides the preparation for and dispensing of, special prescriptions, and the constant daily wholesale compounding of medicines for dispensary purposes, the general administrative details, which are always abundant and urgent in hospital management, were not neglected by the overseers who have been faithful in the discharge of their duties.

Female ward.—The females as a rule keep very healthy. They suffer more from nervous disturbances than the male prisoners. There was no serious disease during the past year, though mostly all of them passed through a very trying siege of the “grippe.”

Insane ward.—This ward is kept, as usual, quite clean and sanitary. The general movements, transfers, and admissions, may be noted in another portion of the annual report.

Prison of Isolation.—This necessary portion of the prison has been kept in good order by those in charge. No special sickness occurred here during the year.

The usual statistical reports of the hospital overseers are appended.

DANIEL PHELAN, M.D.,
Surgeon.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

St. VINCENT DE PAUL, March 31, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you my report for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1915.

The sanitary state of this penitentiary would have been satisfactory, if it had not been for the serious epidemic of typhoid fever which made five victims.

Four employees have also been attacked by this illness but there was no death amongst them.

On 12th November, 1914, I opened the new hospital. The number of patients treated at the hospital has been 213 and the number of consultations 9,220. Nine (9) died; Allen, James, Dansereau, Arthur, Bergéron, Emile, Contant, Hector, Thomas, William B. All died from typhoid fever. L'Hereux, Joseph, pulmonary tuberculosis, Trepanier, Hormidas, cardialga, Rogers, Charles H., from an accident; Holden, James, sudden death caused by syncope of the heart.

In concluding, I beg to congratulate the hospital assistant Mr. D. O'Shea for the zeal and devotedness he has shown in the course of the epidemic.

Respectfully submitted,

DR. J. A. POMINVILLE,
Surgeon.

DORCHESTER.

DORCHESTER, N.B. April 26, 1915.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit the following report for the year ended March 31, 1915.

During the past twelve months the general health of the convicts has been excellent, with the exception of the last month, when large numbers were ill with influenza, none fatally so. Three deaths occurred in the hospital and one in the prison proper during the year. There has been some cases of insanity of mild type.

The very necessary sewerage system now being installed in the officers' quarters on the reserve will be a very great sanitary improvement to their homes.

April 13, 1915.

Sir,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ended March 31, 1915.

During the year there have been few cases of a serious nature; the greater number of consultations being for minor ailments. On the whole the health of the convicts has been good.

I regret to report two accidental deaths on May 18, 1914, caused by a fall while working on a building, excepting these there have been no deaths or serious accidents.

The health of the officers for the year has been good.

The statements showing the number of cases treated in Hospital and at Dispensary are appended.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

ALBERTA.

EDMONTON, April 1, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report as surgeon of the Alberta penitentiary for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The health of the convicts has been good, there having been few cases of serious sickness and no contagious diseases. There have been two rather severe accidents to the eyes; one from a piece of steel entering and penetrating to the posterior part of the eye. The sight of this eye is permanently lost; the other injured by getting putty lime in the eye, setting up a conjunctivitis and keratitis. The sight is as yet impaired but a recovery is probable.

Another convict received injuries to both feet by jumping from a third range to the cement floor. The tarsal and metatarsal joints were dislocated and the tarsal bones fractured. The disfigurement will be permanent.

There were only four other minor injuries—one from the use of adze and the others sprains of ankles.

I regret to have to report two deaths during the year,—one from tuberculosis, which took place some time after his parole came, but his home being away north and poor prospects of him being able to reach there, we kept him in the prison, his case being hopeless. The other death was from Bright's disease or tuberculous kidney.

Having moved from the temporary cell-block where the bucket system was used, into the new east wing which is fitted with modern sanitary conveniences, I have every reason to look forward to better health among the convicts in the future.

There has been less sickness among officers during the past year.

I remain, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALEX. FORIN, M.D.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

SASKATCHEWAN.

PRINCE ALBERT, April 5, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the fourth annual report of the medical department of the Saskatchewan penitentiary for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The health of the convicts generally has not been as good as last year.

There has been one operation for appendicial abscess with recovery, and two deaths, one of which was due to cirrhosis of the liver, and the second was due to apoplexy.

There has been several minor accidents, and one case of fracture of the clavicle.

The ventilation and sanitation conditions of the penitentiary are as good as can be expected with the cell accommodation.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. CHISHOLM,

Surgeon.

APPENDIX D.—CHAPLAINS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

SIR,—The arrival of the first day of the fiscal year reminds me of the fact that it is the date upon which the annual report from our chapel should be forwarded to you.

During the past twelve months the names of seventy-five men were entered on our register and eighty-one struck off, leaving us a total of one hundred and eighty-nine with which to begin our present fiscal year.

The morale, not only of the Catholic but likewise of the Protestant convicts is good and will compare as a whole to advantage with the inmates of any other penitentiary. The means of becoming better is furnished them on all sides if they will only take advantage of the opportunities offered them.

Reformation, good discipline and moral improvement depend in a large measure upon the officials whose duty it is to inculcate virtue by their daily examples still more than by word of mouth. Like clay in the potter's hands many of the younger element among the convicts could be moulded into good men if placed under the direction of keepers possessed of tact and virtue.

The books furnished the men from the library are eagerly read and more than appreciated. Many a long and lonely hour, which would otherwise be wasted in idleness and sinful habits or thought is thus brightened and turned to good use and instruction.

For an infraction of some prison regulation, a man may be deprived of his reading matter for a short time, when such thing happens, many of the men consider said privation as a severe punishment. Our Catholic library is a thing of the past from the fact that no reading matter has been supplied it for twenty or more years. I am therefore constrained to reiterate the wish contained in my last year's report—viz: "that ere long our general and chapel libraries will be thoroughly purged of unsuitable matter and the shelves replenished with works of history, biography, travel and religious instruction written by standard authors in the English, French and Italian languages to meet local wants and supply good mental food for our prison population taken out of normal intercourse and shut away with their thoughts for several years."

In conclusion, I beg to acknowledge with thanks, my heartfelt appreciation of any and every kindness shown me by the officers of the institution.

Yours respectfully,
M. McDONALD.

KINGSTON, May 20, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to report as follows on my work in the prison during the past year.

Services have been conducted regularly in the chapel twice each Sunday, and on other special occasions as arranged. I have had the ready assistance of ministers of other denominations, as well as of those of the Church of England, on a number of occasions, to all of whom sincere acknowledgments are due.

The singing is at all times hearty, and the services bright and helpful, as attested by many of the men and women themselves, and by, practically, the unanimous testimony of the visiting clergy and others.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

Song services are held at intervals as frequently as a programme can be arranged by the choir, or help can be secured by the kindness of friends from this city. These services are very much appreciated by the convicts.

The Bishop of Ontario and the Bishop of Kingston have spoken to the prisoners on several occasions, and the latter confirmed a class of 18 candidates (15 male and 3 female) presented by myself for the Apostolic rite on Sunday, December 20, 1914.

I have conducted a Bible class for men once a week, which about 100 men have taken advantage of. My Bible class for women meets once a fortnight, and has been attended by all the women under my care. A prayer meeting is conducted once a week by some ladies from the city.

On three days in the week I am accustomed to spend the noon hour in personal interviews with the new arrivals, or else with men who have signified their desire to see the chaplain, or whom I may myself desire to see, and these interviews fully occupy the time thus placed at my disposal. Many of these talks with the convicts impress me deeply with the importance of the opportunity thus afforded, to give comfort and cheer, as well as spiritual counsel and advice to "the needy in his distress," and I have endeavoured to make the fullest use of the privilege.

In visiting the men in the various departments of the prison I have, of course, paid special attention to those in the hospital, and those confined in the prison of isolation.

The religious library, now located in the vestry of the chapel, contains about 227 books, and has been a source of real spiritual help to a number of the prisoners. About 140 of the men have taken advantage of the privilege of the library. If, however, this department is to do the work it might well be expected to do, the library must be considerably augmented by the addition of a larger number of up-to-date books. The most read ones consist of books recently purchased by myself, and others given as a free grant by the Moody Institute of Chicago.

Three men and three women convicts were baptized by me during the year.

Respectfully yours,

O. G. DOBBS,

Protestant Chaplain.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

6 GEORGE V, A. 1916

The usual routine of duty has been somewhat affected by the results of the disastrous fire of last year.

Chapel.—Divine service has been held only once on Sundays and holidays, instead of twice as formerly, but, I hope that we shall soon be permitted to have the second service again. I am pleased to be able to state that the behaviour of the men in chapel has been good, and their deportment reverent. Many join heartily in the singing and other parts of the service. By the death of our devoted and talented organist, we have suffered a great loss. It will be difficult to find a successor equally zealous and proficient.

Vestry.—Before the alterations made in the north wing some four years ago, the vestry, in which I had of necessity to spend a good part of my time, was very comfortable, but since then the conditions under which I have had to work in the performance of my duties have been very trying, and, owing to the disarrangement of the heating plant after the fire, were the cause of a serious illness from which I suffered in April and May last. I am in hopes, however, that when the suggestions made by Mr. Inspector Hughes last October have been carried out, the chaplain's quarters may be more habitable.

Library.—The library continues to be well patronized by the men, and is a great boon to them; relieving the tedium of their unoccupied time and thus acting as a silent though efficacious factor in the preservation of discipline. At present there is a lack of shelf-room, but this, I suppose, will be rectified when the contemplated change of location is carried out.

Hospital.—While the general health of men has been good for the greater part of the year, there was much sickness amongst them when the prison, as well as the surrounding country, was visited by the epidemic of typhoid. One of my flock, I regret to record, died from the fever, while another died as the result of an accident.

The year, like its predecessor, has been one of mingled disappointment and encouragement, but humbly trusting that my "Labour has not been in vain in the Lord."

I remain, sir, yours faithfully,

JOHN ROLLIT,

Protestant Chaplain.

March 31, 1915.

SIRS,—I have the honour to forward you my third annual report.

More than a year from now, our temporary chapel has been opened the religious service has been performed, if not with the solemnity required by the grandeur of the Catholic worship, at least with all the requisite regularity to secure for souls entrusted to our care, the full efficacy of our ministry. In that respect, I cannot fail to state my high appreciation for your delicate attention in asking my consent to suspend temporarily the construction of our new chapel. This course of action was by no means obligatory; besides being aware of the urgency of other works to perform, I could but acquiesce heartily to the alleged motives, remaining grateful for the dealing.

It is gratifying for me to state the remarkable number of those that have fulfilled this year, their paschal duties. My fellow priests that assisted me in the hearing of the confession, have been so deeply impressed as to testify high of their edification.

This habitual frequentation of the Sacraments of Penance and of Holy Eucharist, by the convicts, in ordinary time, becomes a powerful auxiliary to him who is called to assist those that are struck by sickness and death. We have recorded seven (7) deaths during the present year. The feelings of Christian resignation and sincere repentance showed by those that passed away, was a cause of great consolation for the parents, a subject of edification for us, and an increase of glory for our Mother, the Catholic Church.

Allow me, dear sir, to come back on the question of the school and of the library. This school, since the fire, has been unfortunately closed, undoubtedly on account of the numerous enterprises that require all available hands. But time will come when it will be necessary to resume the French and English courses, and then, I pray you to reconsider the suggestion I had the honour to lay before you in my last report, namely, the creation of a new office of teacher and librarian. In my humble opinion, on this condition alone, some benefit may be expected from reading and teaching in this institution.

On March 31 of the present year, remain under my charge in the Catholic chapel, three hundred and seventy-seven (377) convicts.

Kindly accept the assurance of my most hearty sentiments in our Lord.

A. MARTIN,

Roman Catholic Chaplain.

DORCHESTER.

DORCHESTER, N.B., April 30, 1915.

SIR,—One more year has been rounded out, and we place before you, the annual statement required.

The calamities of war are upon us, and the upheaval has caused continents to tremble; but the Empire remains calm, confident and determined.

Events unparalleled in the records of the world's doings are being inscribed upon the pages of our country's history.

It is a fact however, that the life and activities of this institution have been unaffected by what is transpiring in the arena of the outside world.

The final hour of the fiscal year found us with 135 names upon the Protestant register, as compared with 125 on March 31, 1914.

Of this number indicated, three are females, while two of the male prisoners are in custody at the Provincial Hospital for nervous diseases, at Fairville, N.B., but still retained on the chaplain's register.

One inmate died during the year, and the body by request was forwarded to relatives.

Our work is not without marked features of encouragement, and indeed we may correctly state, new features of encouragement.

We name the adoption of a memorizing policy; we aim to urge all who will, to memorize the specific teachings of the catechism of their declared creed, and to further supplement that work, by committing to memory, portions of the Book of Books.

This work is becoming in a special sense, an increasing source of joy and delight to the chaplain. An encouraging number have taken up this work, and are showing real enthusiasm in it.

One young man, a "life term," who came here about nine years ago, then absolutely ignorant of the alphabet, has now become master of the "three R's," and is a real prodigy in this memory work.

6 GEORGE V, A. 1916

The "leaven of gospel teaching" is at work to a marked degree, and we are cherishing large hopes that great good is being accomplished.

We wonder at this characterization, from sources that we do not recall, of men and women found in prison cells "they fill no place, they do not count, they do not arrive, they do not achieve, they thrill with no hope, burn with no purpose, they do not do, nor do they try. They sit, they idle, they exist, they loaf, they kill time, they waste, they rot."

Responding to the inspiration received from Divine sources, we are bound to say, that with so much to believe, with so much to do, with so many to love, with everybody to help and to be helped, with life so real, and God so loving, and eternity so long, with duty so clear, and death so near, with individuality so distinct; and with a destiny in the making (especially in connection with the alarming number of juvenile offenders) we are determined to be one, and count one, among those who have been commanded to "Go into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

We are delighted to record that we are enjoying to a marked degree, the cordial and fraternal qualities of the newly appointed Roman Catholic chaplain, Rev. Father Dismas LeBlanc.

This is a record year in the size and efficiency of our choir.

We refer with great satisfaction to the high standard of reverence and decorum existing among the prisoners, while attending the chapel services, due in its entirety to your wise and firm administration of the disciplinary policy of the institution.

We value highly, and sincerely appreciate the courtesies you have been good enough to extend throughout the year; the entire staff have shown great readiness to co-operate, and the writer of this report, herewith records his gratitude.

Yours obediently,

BYRON H. THOMAS,

Protestant Chaplain.

SIR,—It is a pleasure to state that notwithstanding the lack of society influence, the inmates do not lose sight of their duty towards God and towards one another. They realize and acknowledge their mistakes and as a rule strive to do better.

For the year ending March 31, 1915, the number of inmates was one hundred; ninety-seven men and three women.

The catechism is attended with punctuality and attention obtaining good results.

In fact their behaviour during religious services is praiseworthy.

In reference to the foreign element, such as are unable to read or understand English, it might be possible to procure in their respective language, such books as would help them to spend their leisure moments in a more profitable way.

It is our sad duty to register the death of three inmates who died during the year. But to our mind the most regrettable fact is the condition (which seems unavoidable for the time being) permitting indirect association of young boys with older inmates.

Unfortunately this year, a few minors have been incarcerated.

The close attention and constant vigilance required to protect the young boy from the influence of the older inmates is beyond the control and power of any officer.

The baneful effect does not arise from the negligence or inefficiency on the part of the officers in charge, but from the system by which a youthful offender barely in his teens must spend his time with his elderly and more advanced associates.

In conclusion I express my sincere thanks to you and all officers in charge. Every one has been kind and obliging to me in such a way that I feel at home in the midst of you all.

D. J. P. LeBLANC,

Roman Catholic Chaplain.

MANITOBA.

STONY MOUNTAIN, April 1, 1915.

SIR.—I beg herewith to submit my eighth annual report.

Services have been held regularly during the year. The interest of the men in these services has been a source of encouragement, but it is in our personal interviews that we seem to get into closest touch with them.

In these interviews many of the men express their desire for a life better than they have been living. We have abundant evidence of sorrow for the past, but it is getting them to exercise faith, and lay hold upon God that seems our greatest difficulty. We have no fear of the future of the man who goes out from us trusting in God as his Saviour, and not depending upon his own past experience alone, to guide him to the right way. Personal salvation is the only hope for a man who passes through the experience of years of association with criminals. This is the goal of our ambition, to bring each man into that personal contact and relationship with his Heavenly Father that will fit and strengthen him for the trial of going back again to make a place for himself in life.

We are pleased to note the progress of the parole system, and hope it may soon be extended to its logical conclusion, the indeterminate sentence. If we could only get our law makers to put themselves in the chaplain's place, and seek the reformation of the convict, they would see how the present system might be improved. Take the case of two men sentenced at the same time, and for the same period. One man sincerely tries to reform his life and conduct. The other simply drifts with everyday events, and by his association with other criminals thus qualifies himself for a life of crime. The one gets his liberty just as soon as the other. Where is the encouragement to reform? On the other hand, the indeterminate sentence makes a man's immediate, as well as his eternal, future depend upon his reformation.

6 GEORGE V, A. 1916

We congratulate you upon the appearance of the chapel since cleaning and decorating. It lends greatly to the joy of our services to have a bright and clean place of worship.

Our thanks are due, and are hereby tendered to all the officers, who have shown us every courtesy and consideration.

Respectfully,
S. W. L. STEWART,
Protestant Chaplain.

STONY MOUNTAIN, April 6, 1915.

SIR,—On March the 31st past the convicts intrusted to my care numbered 87. The great majority of them being of foreign elements, I had several times to call for the help of priests conversant with the Polish and the Ruthenian languages. I could take myself a proper care of those speaking the English, French or Italian languages.

The good results obtained so far are for me a source of deep satisfaction. Our Catholic convicts, as a whole, have persevered in their zeal to frequent the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist, a good many even receiving each Sunday.

This main fact is for me a great comfort, for our convicts, the promise of a better future based upon a true reformation. May I add that even the members of your staff have noticed a change among those who sincerely endeavour to practise their holy religion.

Hoping that such my hopes will be more and more realized, and thanking you for the liberty granted to my ministry.

I remain, sir,
Truly yours,
JOSEPH VICTOR JOUBERT,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

During the year just closed I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to advise, assist, and encourage the men under my charge.

The services on Sunday have been held regularly, and have proved interesting and profitable. The order and solemnity during divine service could not be excelled.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed once during the year. The attendance was not as large as on former occasions.

I am indebted to Mr. Mackness, the organist, and Mr. Sampson, the leader, for the excellent state of efficiency of the choir.

The special Christmas service was a great treat for the men. I wish to thank Mr. Mackness and his friends who assisted in making it a success.

The sick have been regularly visited and the ministrations of the chaplain have been gratefully received.

Two of those under my charge died during the year and were laid to rest in the new burial ground.

All other duties pertaining to the office of chaplain have been faithfully performed.

It is with profound regret that I note the continued herding together of all classes of prisoners without regard to the possibilities of the younger or less hardened.

It is not surprising that those who have the opportunity of observing at first hand the influence exerted by the more confirmed criminal upon the young convict, should earnestly desire the ushering in of those happier conditions, when the first offender will be kept apart, and given a larger chance of reformation.

I desire to thank you, and the staff generally for kind co-operation and support accorded me in the discharge of my duties.

Yours respectfully,
ALBERT EDWARD VERT,
Protestant Chaplain.

NEW WESTMINSTER, April 1, 1915.

SIR,—I herewith beg to present to you my report as Catholic chaplain of this penitentiary for the year ending March 31, 1915.

Holy Mass is celebrated on every Sunday at 8 o'clock a.m. and every opportunity is given to the men to approach the Sacraments. The behaviour in the chapel is very edifying, and all that one could desire.

I take this opportunity to thank you and all the officers for the courtesy which has been extended to me on every occasion.

I am, sir,

Yours respectfully,

L. CHOINEL, O.M.I.

Roman Catholic Chaplain.

EDMONTON, April 1, 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you my report for the year ending March 31, 1915.

Religious services have been conducted on Sunday mornings during the year, and I have reason to believe, from conversations with many of the men, that these have been appreciated and have resulted in benefit to some of them.

The Salvation Army has conducted a monthly service, and has been of great assistance to many of the men who have been discharged or let out on parole, by securing positions for them and caring for them in other ways.

The choir, composed of prisoners, has been of great assistance in the service of praise, and for which a short practice is held once a week at the noon hour.

The female convicts were all removed to Kingston penitentiary on the 29th of April, 1914, and consequently the prisoners under my care are all male.

The opening of the new chapel has given us the very much needed increased accommodation for the services.

On April 1, 1914, there were 132 Protestant prisoners in confinement and on March 31, 1915, there were 128, denominationally distributed as follows: Church of England, 31; Presbyterian, 36; Methodist, 23; Baptist 15; Congregationalist, 2; Lutheran, 13; United Brethern, 2; Greek Catholic, 4; Mormon, 1; Jewish, 1.

In conclusion I must thank the warden and all the officials for their kind consideration for me in the discharge of my duties.

I have the honour to be,

Your obedient servant,

D. G. McQUEEN,

Protestant Chaplain.

EDMONTON, April 1, 1915

SIR,—I have the honour to present to you my report for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The actual number of Catholic convicts at the end of the year was 47—of different nationalities—English, Irish, German, French, half-breed and Ruthenian.

Mass and sermon are given on every Sunday and Feast of Obligation and attended by all the Catholic convicts, who assist at the divine services with respect and attention. About all the convicts this year fulfilled the Easter duties, at the end of three days' retreat preached during Lent by an experienced missionary preacher. At the request of a few Catholics unfamiliar with the English or French languages, German or Ruthenian priests, at different times during the year, exercised their ministry with those people.

Allow me to tender my hearty thanks to the warden and to all his officers for the delicate attention they have at all times extended to me.

Yours truly,

J. A. ETHIER,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

The convicts have been visited regularly as required.

Religious services have been held every Sunday and on certain holy days. These services were well attended, the behaviour good, and the majority of the men have shown an earnest appreciation of the privilege of assembling together for worship. The sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered three times during the year. Several of the convicts are trying hard to do the right and have resolved to live better lives. Each man is provided with a hymn book and a bible, which he is allowed to read in his cell.

I am deeply grateful for all the help I have received from yourself and all the officials serving under you.

During the past year the services on Sundays and holidays have been regularly held, and private interviews with prisoners have been, I hope faithfully performed since my return from Europe, as well as during my absence. On resuming my charge I was glad to help again those unfortunate derelicts of society, trying to uplift their minds and to make of them better and more moral men. I remark with satisfaction that our convicts are kept busy. This system will certainly improve them, not only physically but morally as well. I find that many of those confined are so weak physically that they are powerless to carry out their good resolutions, whereas useful employment seems to improve their health, and moreover enabling them to better appreciate the solitude of their cells where they can busy themselves with reflections on the past they have led.

May I suggest that did our foreign prisoners have a more conversant grasp of the English language my ministry among them would be greatly enhanced.

APPENDIX E.—SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the report of the school in this penitentiary for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The total number enrolled during the year was 71. Of this number 18 passed out capable of reading, writing and arithmetic, 39 retired at expiration of sentence. Present attendance is 32.

The studies of these are as follows:—

G. S. MALEPART,

Warden.

H. C. FATT,

Accountant.

DORCHESTER.

SIR,—I herewith submit the following report on the farming operations for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The spring came in cold and dry with a snowstorm on May 2. The first grain was sowed on May 14 on upland and on marsh May 21 and was continued without interruption until finished on June 11. Planting potatoes commenced May 22. Crops were generally good with the exception of turnips and hay on the marsh, which was a light crop.

During the months of May and June a good deal of work was done ditching and levelling on the new Forster marsh. A great deal yet remains to be done, as the marsh is very badly cut up with cross ditches, which makes it difficult to mow. This work will be continued this summer.

The summer of 1914 was very favourable for getting work done and the gangs were employed at the ordinary farm work without any loss of time through stormy weather.

We are very much in need of a suitable building, located near the gate house in which wagons, carts, and farming implements can be stored.

The financial statement hereto attached shows a profit on the year's transaction of $1,750.54.

Thanking you, sir, for assistance in all branches of the work, ungrudgingly given during the year, and,

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW McPHERSON,

Farm Instructor.

MANITOBA.

SIR,—I enclose herewith my balance sheet for the past year for the farm in connection with this institution.

The amount of grain produced was 2,364 bushels of oats and 662 bushels of barley. The vegetables produced were as follows: Potatoes, 2,500 bushels; turnips, 800 bushels; mangels, 15 tons; and sugar beets, 5 tons. The small vegetable crop was very poor.

The extreme dryness of the past season is accountable for the very small returns shown. The hay season produced 100 tons.

A large quantity of turnips, potatoes and other vegetables was supplied for prison use. Over a thousand dollars' worth of pork was also supplied the prison and sold to the officers, and over that amount in hogs was raised and sold.

6 GEORGE V, A. 1916

Our horses have been kept busy during the year on the road and general farm work. I have paid particular attention to the land with a view to future production and it is at present in first-class shape and, with favourable weather, we should have a large crop next year.

I contemplate breaking all the new land possible the coming season, which will materially increase the acreage for the following year.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. P. ROBERTSON,

Farm Instructor

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending March 31, 1915.

The root crop this year was exceptionally good, and of splendid quality. I hope to have enough potatoes to last until the new crop is ready for use.

The new piggery completed at the beginning of this year is a great improvement on the old one, and gives us a good deal more room for our herd of swine.

Since my last report we have been clearing one of the blocks of land belonging to the penitentiary at the back of the reserve, and when finished will give about ten acres more of good land for cultivating purposes.

I am sorry to say that I had to kill one of our best horses this year on account of his having an incurable disease.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. DYNES,
Farm Instructor.

ALBERTA.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report as farm instructor for the year ending March 31, 1915.

Owing to the unusual heavy rainfall in June and July last year and to poor drainage, about two acres of potatoes along the railway were drowned out. During the winter this tract has been drained and will be equipped with cement seepage tile, which are now being manufactured on the premises. This tract of land will be seeded down to hay this year.

Posts have been set ten feet apart, for about one and one-half miles of fence and are now ready for the wire, which will be put on and the balance of the fence finished this year.

About fourteen acres were cleared and broken last year and a crop of green food was taken off seven acres of this. There are now ten acres more grubbed and ready for the plough.

Trusting my report will meet with your approval, I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. W. BRETT,

Farm Instructor.

SASKATCHEWAN.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my first annual report for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1915.

The crops this year were only fair. We harvested 4,655 bushels of oats, and 947 bushels of barley. We cut and stacked 45 large loads of green feed (oats) and 153 large loads of prairie and slough hay.

We put in our root cellar about 65 bushels of parsnips, 80 bushels onions, 90 bushels carrots, 60 bushels beets, 600 bushels turnips, 2,500 bushels potatoes and 2,000 heads of cabbage.

We broke about 90 acres of new land during the year. This will give about 317 acres ready for this spring.

Our piggery is doing well, and we have 78 hogs on hand.

We lost five horses during the year from swamp fever, which was very prevalent in this part of the province.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES A. ANDERSON.
Farm Instructor.
